Texas FFA,

Hello Texas FFA members! I am so excited to watch the first virtual Texas FFA State convention unfold. Like so many of you, state convention has always been an event that I hold close to my heart! I have been incredibly blessed to experience state convention on various levels as an ambassador, delegate and area officer. I have made wonderful friendships and learned valuable life lessons. One of the biggest lessons I have learned from attending multiple state conventions is to always share your story and never be afraid to serve those in need. One of my favorite quotes reads, “To the world you may be one person, but to one person you may be the world.” This quote sits heavily on my heart as I work to help individuals in our organization pursue their passions and discover their talents. Over this next year, I would be so honored to serve you and help discover our talents and passions to make ourselves and Texas FFA better each day.
